Register at: http://www.constantcontact.com/facebook-nonprofits.

The one-hour session, which is the second in the series, features:

- Four key steps to success on Facebook:
 - · Connect to fans to stay top of mind
 - Engage fans with quality content to build deeper relationships
 - Influence the friends of fans to expand marketing reach
 - Integrate Facebook into daily operations and marketing activities
- Specific steps nonprofits can take immediately to kick their social media marketing into high gear and achieve their goals
- Real-world examples of how other nonprofits have used social media marketing to improve awareness and increase donations.

"Most nonprofits face two common issues: reactivating their existing members and finding new donors and volunteers. The great news is that Facebook offers nonprofits an easy and affordable way to stay top of mind with existing members and to inspire them to share the organization's message with friends and family," said Schmulen. "Our goal is to educate the nonprofit community on how they can grow their organization and build a community of advocates through social media."

Every attendee of the live webinar will receive an invitation to run a free Social Campaign with Constant Contact. For full details on this giveaway, please go to http://www.constantcontact.com/facebook-nonprofits.
